READING DYNAMIC LANDSCAPES

Rick Darke, Rick Darke LLC, Landscape Ethics, Photography, and Contextual Design

Local and global trends in ecological stewardship are inspiring designs that embrace dynamic plant and animal communities. Because such landscapes are constantly in flux, their creation and care require enhanced skill in observation, analysis and strategy. This presentation illustrates how to enhance your ability to read into pre-existing and ongoing dynamics in a wide range of landscapes including residential gardens, parks, preserves and highly disturbed urban sites. The focus will be on the regenerative qualities of dynamic relationships and the resiliency that results from celebrating the inevitability of change. 1 CBLP CEU

ADVENTURES IN EDEN: TALES OF GARDEN MAKING IN EUROPE TODAY

Carolyn Mullet, author and garden designer

We live in a time of great energy in garden making—private spaces that express ideas about beauty, place, nature, wildness, and sometimes fantasy. In this talk, Carolyn Mullet draws on her recent book Adventures in Eden, exploring through images the stories behind personal havens scattered across Europe that she chose not for their pedigree but for their owner's passion and creativity. Each exhibits a deep love of eloquent garden design and a commitment to creating atmospheric, plant-rich environments. And there's a bonus: You may be able to visit these gardens in person, depending on the owner's schedule, the next time you find yourself in Europe.

LUNCH BREAK

1 PM

UPROOTED: A GARDENER REFLECTS ON BEGINNING AGAIN

Page describes leaving her beloved garden, Duck Hill, after 34 years, finding a new home in northwest Connecticut at the foot of the Berkshire Mountains, and falling in love with its land. A garden emerges with echoes of Duck Hill, but deeply entwined with the surrounding fields and woods. We will learn how her approach to gardening and garden design changed with this new adventure.

NEW NATURALISM: DESIGNING AND PLANTING A RESILIENT, ECOLOGICALLY VIBRANT HOME GARDEN

Kelly Norris, horticulturist, author and presenter

In this era of purposeful and thoughtful gardening, planting is a powerful verb. Planting gardens inspired by nature promotes authentic connections with land, environment and humanity. Why not make a garden that works and looks good doing it? Landscapes at home and in the public realm can be beautiful and ecologically functional if we deepen our understanding of plants and place. In this lecture especially tailored to garden enthusiasts with examples from around the world, plantsman and author Kelly Norris challenges audiences to plant the world a more beautiful, functional place. 1 CBLP CEU
